Foundations and Government: State and Federal Law Supervision Marion R. Fremont-Smith

Concentrates on the historical, statutory, judicial, and administrative aspects of philanthropic foundations. It begins with a general survey of the rise of foundations, particularly as a legal concept, and examines existing provisions for state registration and supervision, with special attention to the role of the attorney general. There are field reports on ten states with programs aimed at following charitable activities closely.

The concluding chapter provides appraisals and recommendations, and appendices include state legal requirements for charitable trusts and corporations, selected state acts, rules, reporting forms, and a list of cases.
